BROCKELHURST UP
Decision on Appeal of Gate's Slayer Probably Next Monday

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court held Monday that 5 per cent beer was intoxicating liquor and could not be sold in Arkansas pool halls.

The court said Craighead circuit erred in acquitting four pool hall operators arrested on charges of selling 5 per cent beer.

The legislative act of 1931 forbids sale of intoxicants on pool hall premises.

The court took under submission for probable decision next Monday the appeal of Lester Brockelhurst, 23, of Galesburg, Ill., from his death sentence conviction for the slaying of Mayor Gates, Little Rock planter, May 6.

The tribunal upheld a $25,000 judgment given L. R. Kendall, 30, of Magnolia, against the Kroger Grocery & Baking Co. in Clark circuit. Kendall charged he was permanently injured when flour fell on him at the Kroger store at Magnolia where he was employed.

Pontiac Tied Up by "Outlaw" Strike—Goodyear Men Return

PONTIAC, Mich.—(AP)—Strikers who had held General Motors' Fisher body plant since Wednesday marched out Monday, led by Homer Martin, international president of the United Automobile Workers of America.

Martin said the company would be notified that the men had left and he would attempt to open negotiations on the grievances which caused the strike.

Pontiac "Outlaw" Strike
DETROIT, Mich.—(AP)—The high command of the United Automobile Workers confronted recalcitrant leaders of an "unauthorized" sit-down strike in the Pontiac Fisher body plant Sunday, then agreed to Pontiac for another meeting without giving any indication of plans for ending the dispute.

A mass meeting at Pontiac, attended by approximately 1,200 unionists from all that city's factories, passed a resolution protesting "decentralization of General Motors activities" without attempts to employ dismissed men.

In a report on the "decentralization George Conibear, a union secretary, said that in increasing numbers to the Fisher plant at Linden, N. J., because of an "anti-union attitude of New Jersey state authorities."

UAW President Homer Martin said at Flint Saturday that "no small group" could expect to ignore the policy of the International Board and stay within "the pale of the union."

Some observers expressed belief that he intended to seek disciplinary action against the men and the Pontiac local which rejected the international's plea to end the strike.

Goodyear Strike Ends
Akron, O.—(AP)—John House, president of Goodyear local of the United Rubber Workers of America, said Saturday night that the union voted to end the sit-down strike at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. at midnight.

Union members, in an unannounced vote, accepted a settlement proposal was discussed at a meeting for more than four hours, House said. The proposal, it was reported, provides no layoffs in the tire and tube division beyond those now planned; that all layoffs be made on seniority; and that no 10-year employees be laid off.

Honors Dixie Graves for Address on Anti-Lynching Measure

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Vice President Garner has grown weary of speeches after some 35 years in Congress, but even he sat down and listened when Senator Dixie Bibb Graves of Alabama had her say about lynching.

Close attention—something no other senator has had this season—was accorded Mrs. Bibb Graves when she took part in the filibuster against the anti-lynching bill.

"I am not going to talk just to consume time," she said. "I just want to tell you what I think about this bill."

Twenty minutes later, when she had finished, her colleagues applauded. It was a rarely-given tribute, frowned on by rules. Republicans joined Democrats in shaking her hand.

The new Alabama senator, appointed to office by her governor-husband, arose for her maiden Senate speech after a series of consultations with her Southern colleagues.

"If you pass this bill you will say to the world that we have a group of Southern states that can not or will not enforce the law and that we will send our federal law down to take control."

Get-Rich-Quick "Cupids" Treat Lovers Heartlessly, the Skip Tracers Discover

Another Lost and Found Story From Skip Tracer Files

Not Always the Woman Who Pays—Here's "Lonely Heart" Ad WORKED "RACKET"

One Woman Was Correspondent—Another a Designing Housekeeper

Love is made a big business by cruel, unscrupulous men and women who play with the heart strings of the lonely and love-hungry. Read about some of these swindles in this fourth of a series of six stories taken from the real-life files of the Skip Tracers Co. in New York City.

By DICK McCANN
NEA Service Staff Writer

It isn't always the woman who pays. Take, for instance, the case of the young man who was lovesick, spotted one of those "Are You Lonely?" advertising columns, and answered one of the ads.

He corresponded regularly thereafter with a "lonely young lady, unable to socialize in her own community because financial reverses alter social position. Would welcome meeting an idealistic man to whom character and ability mean more than money. Is there any such man left anywhere?"

She wrote interestingly, tenderly, beautifully. Her letters laughed and cried and made love. And the young man struggled with his scrawl to let her know that he, too, loved her.

Of course, they exchanged photographs. She was pretty. And then they traded their little troubles, sought consolation, gave immediate advice.

Well, it wasn't long before the young man was asking her to marry him. She consented. "But, darling boy," she wrote, "I can't come to you until I save up $200. The train fare is so great and I am in tatters. I need clothes so badly. It will take me a long time to save the money. Unless, of course, darling boy, you can send me the money."

"Darling boy" did. He sent the $200. And never heard from her again. His frantic letters were returned: "No such person at address."

Cooked Up Romance
"We found her," relates Daniel Eisenberg, skipper of the Skip Tracers Co. in New York City. "When we walked in on her she was sitting at a desk writing letters, of course. Seems she made a profession of writing letters. And a profitable one, too. Our investigation showed that she was successful in getting money from eight of ten men with whom she corresponded."

"Then there was the young German housekeeper of Badolier Vincente Palizza. He fell in love with her, asked her to marry, and agreed to making her $5,000 life savings into a joint checking account. They married, she checked out the money, and checked out herself."

"We figured it was a game," says Mr. Eisenberg, "and so we watched the 'positions wanted' ads for housekeepers and kept an eye on domestic employment agencies. When we found she was working as a housekeeper for an Irish widower and getting ready to marry him."

Woman Pays and Tells
No, it isn't always the woman who pays—but it's usually is.

There was the young heiress who loved art—and, later, an artist. He was handsome, romantic, talented, and poor. First, she was attracted by his talents. Then she fell prey to his romantic charm.

"But, dear," he told her. "I can't marry you. I'm already married, and, although I want to, I can't get a divorce. I can't afford it."

Over his mild protestations she agreed to finance a divorce trip to Reno. She gave him $5,000 for railroad fare, living expenses, lawyer's fees, and court costs.

MIND Your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is "I'll come if I can" a gracious way to accept a verbal invitation?
2. Is it all right for a wife who receives a dinner invitation over the telephone to say "May I ask Bob if he has any other plans and then call you back?"
3. Is it necessary to answer a written invitation to a tea?
4. Is it correct to give a reason for not accepting a formal invitation?
5. Does a wedding invitation ever require an answer?

What would you do if—
You receive a formal invitation—
(a) Call your hostess on the telephone to tell her whether or not you can accept the invitation?
(b) Give her your answer the next time you see her?
Write a third person acceptance or regret on a small piece of white notepaper?

Answers:
1. No.
2. Yes.
3. No.
4. Yes, if one wishes.

Crop Control Bill Is Ready Tuesday

Meanwhile Congress Continues Wordy Debate of Last Week

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Congress was ready—almost to get down to work Monday on crop control legislation.

The senate and house continued the same sort of wordy debate that produced no action during the first week of the special congressional session, but the senate had the farm bill to start on Tuesday.

The house committee wound up its discussion over the agriculture bill.

Senate Committees Bolts
WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Senate Agriculture Committee bolted Sunday night an administration ban on increasing farm benefits without raising new revenues to pay for them and voted "blanket authorization" for financing the new farm program.

Senator Thomas (Dem., Okla.) told reporters of the revolt shortly after AAA officials had told the committee-men that President Roosevelt expected the cost of legislation to be held within the usual $500,000,000 appropriation for soil conservation.

A majority of the committee members insisted that the program could not be carried out within that limitation and voted the authorization in the hope that the house would originate the necessary revenue. Some estimated that the price adjustment payments normally would exceed the regular appropriation by approximately $150,000,000.

Bill Approved
Earlier, the committee had approved in principle a general farm bill designed to control crop surpluses, conserve soil resources, guarantee farmers a "fair share" of the national income and protect consumer markets.

Chairman Smith (Dem., S. C.), called the extra night session to adopt a draft for introduction in the Senate probably Tuesday. Administration leaders promised immediate consideration. Several committee members, however, expressed doubt that the measure could be reported out by that time.

House farm leaders expected to write with few exceptions a companion bill the first of the week.

While several important points were still in controversy, it virtually was agreed the senate bill would provide twice adjustment payments on major commodities; establish an ever-normal granary for wheat, corn and possibly rice, and regulate production through acreage and marketing quotas.

Grain Loans Proposed
The granary would be carried out for cotton and tobacco in the form of loans for storing surpluses to reduce supplies in a glutted market and hold them for release at "fair prices" in lean years.

The bill contemplates additional federal appropriations for adjustment payments. Producers would be entitled to the payments in return for voluntarily co-operating with the federal acreage control program.

Adjustment payments would be in addition to soil conservation benefits and possibly total $150,000,000 more than the regular $500,000,000 conservation appropriation. Final decision had not been reached on this point.

Voluntary acreage contracts were adopted for wheat and corn farmers in return for federal subsidies, and provision made for marketing quotas by farmer referendum in years of excess production.

Japs Serve Notice on Gen. Kai-Shek to Give Up Capital

Inva'ders Hammering at Gates of China's Capital Monday

TO SEIZE SHANGHAI
International Crisis as Japs Strike at Foreign Holdings

By the Associated Press
Japanese forces closing in on China's capital city of Nanking called on Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek to surrender Monday, while at Brussels the Far Eastern peace conference moved toward an ineffectual conclusion.

Messages urging Chiang Kai-Shek's surrender were dropped by Japanese airmen making their first flight over Nanking since the Chinese government announced the transfer of its activities farther inland to Chungking.

Japanese military leaders, declaring they would be at the gates of Nanking within a week, announced the capture of Wushu, one of the last strongholds of China's Nanking defenses.

Action in the Spanish civil war centered on the Aragon front where insurgent Generalissimo Franco's bombing planes were reported to have scored heavily on several towns in a concerted offensive against government-held points.

The Republic of France, seeking to run down an apparent plot to overthrow the government, was given new excitement by a manifesto by the Duke of Guise, pretender to the throne of France, announcing his decision to "reconquer the throne of my fathers."

Japs Demand Shanghai
SHANGHAI, China.—(P)—Japan demanded virtual control of Shanghai Sunday and threatened military action if necessary to force compliance from the international authorities of this greatest commercial city of the Orient.

While Japanese troops pursued retreating Chinese toward Nanking representatives of the Japanese government served the strong demands on authorities of the International Settlement and the French Concession. Included were Japanese control of Chinese maritime customs, the postal and telegraph administrations and courts.

It was learned from other sources that the Japanese intended to demand the further right to march their troops through foreign areas, close Chinese government banks and eject 500 well-known Chinese.

The Japanese military attaché informed officials of the foreign areas that the Japanese army reserved the right to take independent measures to suppress all anti-Japanese activities if such efforts of the settlement authorities fail to satisfy the army.

Loans Are at Stake
A Japanese spokesman emphasized that Japan required acknowledgment from the foreign authorities of Japan's right, in principle, to take over the sovereign right in the settlement and concession formerly exercised by the Chinese government.

Although the maritime customs involve international agreements beyond the authority of settlement officials to modify, the Japanese navy Sunday seized all customs vessels in Shanghai harbor, forced off the Chinese crews and foreign engineers and hoisted the Japanese flag preparatory to taking over operations of the customs. The Chinese customs revenues are pledged to repay foreign loans and officials of interested foreign powers.

World Lawlessness Taken for Granted

THE Mediterranean world has got over the bad attack of jitters which afflicted it a few months ago.
Not long since, the air around that historic sea was charged with tension and nervous expectancy. War was in the wind, and a breakdown of international law, and strong-arm tactics of high and low degree. Everyone looked ahead to the worst.
Now, says Anne O'hare McCormick in a dispatch to the New York Times, the tension is eased. The war scare has been raised so often that people are no longer scared by it.
The state of tension has come to seem normal. People have stopped worrying.
But this is not good news. On the contrary, as Mrs. Mc-Cormick points out, it is just about the worst news possible.
For it means that people are getting hardened to cruelty, lawlessness and fear. They are taking for granted a world in which all of the old securities have ceased to exist.

IT IS worth while to ponder over this fact for a moment, for it is perhaps the most dismaying fact on the horizon today.
Consider the state of affairs on the Mediterranean. Warships are patrolling the sea lanes on a war-time basis. Hidden submarines lurk in sheltered coves, to dart out every so often and sink unoffending merchant ships. Bombing planes cruise in the skies, dropping down ever and again to blast some peaceful carrier of goods. Every naval base on that sea, every fleet and squadron and flotilla, is kept constantly ready for action.

On shore things are better. At least three great nations, technically at peace with the world, are up to their necks in a war that is tearing Spain to bits. Rumors of revolt, of international plots and of mutiny are rife all along the African coast. In Palestine an ugly three-sided fight is taking its toll in murders, guerilla encounters, and bombings. And in no Mediterranean land have the common people the slightest assurance that they may not be called to arms day after tomorrow.

Yet it is this situation, as violent and unsettled as something out of the middle ages, which people are getting used to.

NOW the point is this: in an orderly, civilized world, such a state of affairs does not exist. Order and civilization go hand in hand; international anarchy such as is evident in the Mediterranean today can appear only when the structure of society is in a state of collapse.

Yet, as Mrs. McCormick remarks, people have grown used to this anarchy. It seems to be the normal condition for the world of 1937. And a world which accepts such a condition as normal is obviously a world that lies on the crumbling edge of the abyss.

Labor Getting Wise

HOPE that the C. I. O. and A. F. of L. negotiators will eventually reach a compromise which will end the disastrous split in labor's ranks seems to be growing brighter. And that is good news for all the country.

Apparently the conferees have the good sense to see that there must be a compromise of some sort, with each side retreating substantially from its original position. The warfare which had been going on through most of this year was becoming ruinous to both sides; continued long enough, it probably would have robbed labor of most if not all of the great gains it has made in the last few years.

There should be ample room in this country for both the craft and industrial unions. There should be enough good sense among the leaders of the two groups to see that some industries are fitted for the one type of union and other industries are fitted for the other type. It is encouraging to see that an honest attempt at compromise is at last being made.

Without Itself Affecting Health, Hair May Grow Ill When Body Is Ill

This is the first in a series in which Dr. Morris Fishben discusses the hair, its health and care.

(No. 37)
Because we are creatures of custom, far more attention is given to the presence or absence of the hair, its color, its straightness or curliness, its excess, or its other qualities than it merits from any point of view except that of vanity.
It is doubtful that the hair itself has any effect whatever on health.
Hair on the human body gives support to the belief that man once was covered with hair like other animals and that the change in his habits and exposure of his body to the sunlight resulted in the general loss of most of his hair.
If we study the various races of man we discover some with hair that is naturally curly and others with hair that is usually straight. A hair that curls is usually flat in appearance when seen under a microscope.
Straight hair is usually cylindrical.
When you look at a hair under the microscope, you find that it has three layers, a central, an inner and an outer layer.
Today much more attention is being given to the care of the hair than was customary a quarter of a century ago.
Before 1915, bobbed hair for women was a rarity. Since bobbed hair has come in, the upkeep on the hair in a family with a mother and two grown daughters would pay the family medical bill for a year and leave plenty over.

Ordinary care of the hair is not a difficult matter. The hair should be washed often enough to keep it clean.
For short hair, washing should occur at least once in two weeks and for long hair once in three weeks.
There is no evidence that the use of eggs in shampooing is of any more use than throwing an egg into an electric fan. Any good toilet soap that will lather freely is useful for the hair.
Most important is a thorough rinsing and drying of the hair after washing.
Experts are inclined to suggest the importance of slow drying rather than drying with an electric drier or heat.
If the hair is too dry, a small amount of oil may be rubbed into it after drying. Dryness of the hair is due to lack of the oil secreted by the glands of the scalp.
When the body in general is in ill health, the hair is likely to be ill also.
Falling of the hair after any serious illness is exceedingly common. When the body begins to improve and its hygiene to reach an optimum state, the hair also will return to normal.
Condition of the blood is closely related to the hair, for the blood supplies nourishment to the scalp exactly as it does to the rest of the body. Therefore, a good supply of high quality blood is important for the well-being of the hair.
Out of this simple fact have come a half dozen or more treatments for falling hair which, however, have failed to restore hair. In some later

By Olive Roberts Barton

Hungering for Facts
This is the fourth of six articles by Olive Roberts Barton in connection with Children's Book Week.
November 15-20.

In all children over nine, there comes a hunger for factual knowledge. Although the slogan for Children's Book Week this year is "Reading, the Magic Highway to Adventure," it does not follow that adventure books must consist of fictional escapes, cowboy prowess, or the villain in the piece.
All children read adventure into-stories that interest them, whether it be biography, science or travel. Therefore, I include a variety of subjects as well as fiction in the following suggestions for the boy or girl from nine to twelve.
Roller Skates, by Ruth Sawyer (Viking); The Book of Marvels, by Richard Halliburton (Bobbs Merrill);

CAST OF CHARACTERS
ROBERT BARRY—hero, explorer.
MISS LANE—heroine.
HONEY BEE GIRL—Indian
member of Barry's party.
HABES JONES—pioneer, member of Barry's party.
Yesterday, Melissa develops a decided liking for her young partner, and Bob gets the second surprise of his expedition—the book he had hired slight moon-also turns out to be a woman. He now has a new problem on his hands.

CHAPTER IV
ZACHARY "HADES" JONES came to life first. While the other three in his party still stared, he barked.
"A squaw! Looky thar, it's a squaw!"
The whole party laughed then,
and Bob was quick to apologize.
"Oh, I'm sorry, uh—Honey—what'd you say your name is?
Honey Bee? We were not laughing at you, but at ourselves. You see, we expected a male cook, a man."

"I cook thee white man's food,"
she repeated. "I cook it better than three white man's woman."
"Sure, sure, come on tonight
anyway, Honey Bee, and cook supper and breakfast for us.
We'll still be skirting the Indian country, and you can ride home tomorrow and send us a man. I'll pay you. It's all right."
The supper that night turned out to be perfect. With scant utensils, an outdoor fire, and a limited stock of supplies, Honey Bee quickly fed them generously and well. She even found time to disappear up a canyon evidently watered by an under-surface stream, and there pick a quantity of the odd plant called miner's lettuce, an unexpectedly delicious salad which she dressed with the rich brown juice of fried ham.
It touched the men's appetites greatly.
"Nothin' but a Indian coulda done that," approved Holliman, picking his teeth, but Hades Jones
snorted.

THAT first night was uneventful. Lissa slept soundly, despite her saddle soreness, and the party was moving again at dawn.
Cactus and brush forced them to ride single file most of this day, so that, relatively, conversation was impossible, but interest heightened when they finally made camp within sight of their goal. They were near the foot of the great Castle cliff. It loomed impressively in the sunset glow.
After supper, Bob studied the

HOLLYWOOD—Short takes: Movie production is at an all-time low for this time of year because executive shakeups and business re-alliances are expected momentarily at almost every studio.
"Why should I start a picture now?"
asked one man. "A new set of ge-

A dance director who knows all the cuss-words was telling his people just what he thought of a bad rehearsal.
A little chorus girl stepped out of line and said, "I quit. You can't use such profane language in front of me!"

I'd like to take each little house

And put a fire on the hearth,

A curtain at each window pane,

Supreme Court in First 'Official' Picture With Justice Black

For the first time since the appointment of Justice Black, the United States Supreme Court sat for this formal group picture. The justices, in whose hands the fate of important legislation lies, are shown above in their court robes as follows: left to right, front row, Associate Justices George Sutherland (75, appointed 1922); James Clark McReynolds (75, appointed 1914); Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes (75, appointed 1930); Associate Justices Louis D. Brandeis (81, appointed 1916); Pierce Butler (71, appointed 1922); Back row, left to right, Associate Justices Benjamin N. Cardozo (67, appointed 1932); Harlan F. Stone (65, appointed 1925); Owen J. Roberts (62, appointed 1930), and Hugo L. Black (61, appointed 1937).

Associate Justice Hugo La Fayette Black of the U. S. Supreme Court is shown here in his first "official" portrait since becoming a member of the nation's highest court. First appointee of President Roosevelt to the tribunal, Black left his Alabama seat in the U. S. Senate for the judicial post. This is his first picture in the traditional robes of office.

25-Tube Zenith Is on Display in Hope

"World's Finest" Shown Tuesday and Wednesday by Cox Drug Co.

"The world's finest radio," the Zenith Stratosphere, will be on exhibition at the John P. Cox Drug Co. two days only, this Tuesday and Wednesday, and the public is cordially invited to come in, see and hear this most famous of all radios.

This Zenith radio contains 25 tubes, two complete chassis and three dynamic concert speakers. Its price is $750.

It is said to be a symphony in rare woods. It is designed in Carpathian tom burl, inlaid with imported marquetry. The sliding doors that cover the big black dial are of matched American but walnut. The entire cabinet has a piano finish. According to John P. Cox Drug Co., local Zenith radio dealers, nothing finer has ever been produced by craftsmen in wood.

There are 85 different models in the 1938 line of Zenith radios, ranging in price from $19.95 to $750. The most interesting of these models are the "Armchair" models which set alongside the owner's easy chair, making it unnecessary for him to move out of his chair to change the program on the radio. A compartment is provided on each model for magazines and newspapers.

The three outstanding features of the new Zenith radios are the Acoustic Adapter Speaker, which makes it possible for the owner to adapt the speaker to the acoustics of his own room, thus giving him a tailor-made radio; the Robot Dial, which makes it possible for the owner to see only one wave band at a time to eliminate

STORIES IN STAMPS

FORTIFYING AGAINST A DESERT

ACROSS its 550 miles of western border, separating it from Italian Libya, Egypt today is throwing up powerful defenses. There are 36,000 Italian soldiers and officers now stationed in Libya and so British army engineers, who are directing the work, are sparing no efforts in this move to protect Cairo and the Nile Valley against any eventuality.

Actually this is fortifying against a desert, for most of Libya, except for scattered oases, is desert. The entire border region is a vast sandy waste crossed only by caravan routes.

Along the coast of Africa, are among the richest in the world. Where there is irrigation Italians raise dates and olives, and vegetables. Chief oasis in northern Libya is El Guarguag. South of here lies the oasis of Cutra, formerly the last stronghold of the Senusi, members of a once powerful religious sect.

There are other oases but hundreds of burning miles separate them from each other. Whittened bones of camels offer mute evidence of the many unsuccessful journeys in a land where temperatures soar to 110 in the day and drop to near freezing at night. A 1936 Libian stamp picturing a native is shown here.

Bobcats Prepare for Last Grid Contest Here Thursday

Will Battle Dallas Team at 2:30 p. m.

To Be the Last Stand for Nine Regulars of Bobcat Team

The Hope High School football team looked forward Monday to its final clash of the season here Thanksgiving Day against St. Joseph High School of Dallas, Texas.

The Bobcats will be after their ninth conquest in the battle with the Dallas school which has one of the largest enrollments of any high school in Texas.

The record of the Dallas grid team was not available Monday. Officials here were wired for the starting lineup, weights and the team record, but had received no reply early Monday afternoon.

Couchy Fox Hammons said his Bobcats came out of the skirmish with Blewins here last Friday in good shape which will enable him to pit the full strength of the Hope team against Dallas.

Tickets On Sale
Tickets will go on sale Tuesday morning for 50 cents and will remain at that price until Wednesday night. Tickets Thursday will be priced at 75 cents. Tickets can be purchased either at Hope Confectionery or Jacks Newsstand.

Last Game for Nine
The St. Joseph game will be the last pre-season clash for nine regulars of the Bobcat team. The entire line, from end to end, will give his last performance as will Vasco Bright and Edward Aslin in the backfield. All are seniors.

The opening kick-off has been set for 2:30 p. m. There is a possibility that members of Lawrence Martin's junior team will clash in a grid contest as a prelude to ringing down the curtain on the 1937 season.

However, this will be announced definitely in Tuesday afternoon's edition of Hope Star.

Emmet Cagers Win Over Liberty Hill

Emmet Senior Girls Win by Top-Heavy Score of 45 to 6

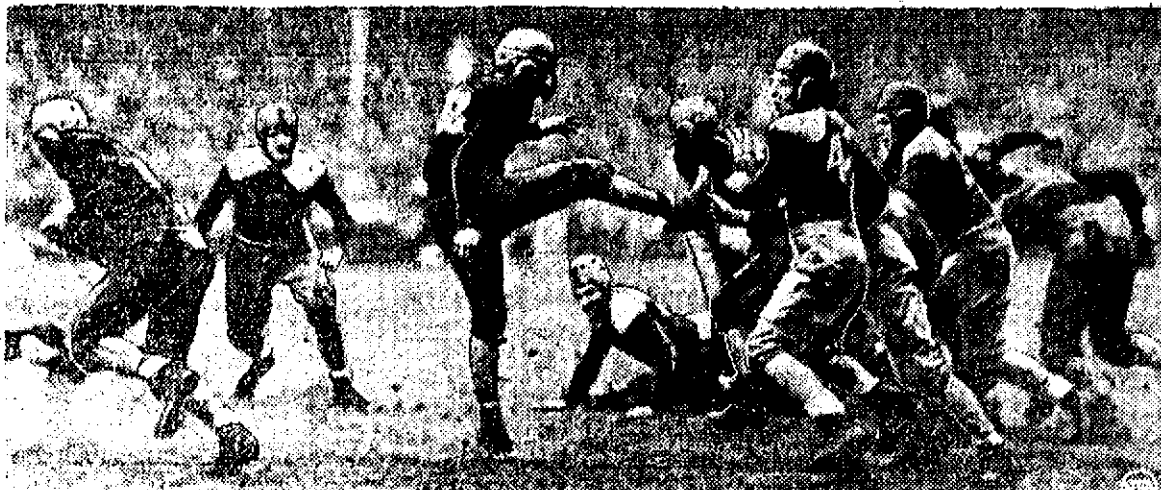

Emmet High School won two basketball games from Liberty High School of Louisiana Friday night, November 19, in the Emmet High School gymnasium.

The Emmet girls team had little trouble in downing their opponents, 45 to 6. Crabbe, Emmet forward, took individual scoring honors with 16 points. Crank, captain and forward, was runner-up with 13 points.

The Emmet senior boys defeated Liberty by a score of 39 to 7. Paul, captain and forward, was high point man with 15 points.

ARMY MULE'S FAKE KICK BOOMERANGS

"It's a kick," the stands howl as Woodrow Wilson, Army punter, gets off a beautiful fake kick in the game against Notre Dame at New York. But if you look closely, you'll see that Charles Long, extreme left, scoots the end with the ball. It was just such a fake play that paved the way for Army's defeat. Wilson "kicked beautifully" but——Ryan carried the ball. Instead of sweeping the end Ryan fumbled—and it was Notre Dame's ball on the Army 13. Ed Belmor makes the recovery above for Notre Dame.

—And four plays later Notre Dame swept to victory. Above Ed Simonich rolls in the end zone with the ball for the touchdown that brought victory, 7-0.

Porkers Hope to Stage Comeback

Prepare for Turkey Day Clash With Tulsa University

FAYETTEVILLE—Watch 'em come back! is the slogan on the University of Arkansas campus Monday as the Porker team and fans prepare for the Razorbacks' game with Tulsa University's Golden Hurricane at Tulsa Thanksgiving Day.

It has become tradition here that the Porkers always go over big in Tulsa, and it has always been held that the Fayetteville Plingers come back strong from a tie or loss, Saturday's upset victory over the Colonials of George Washington University left Porkers and Porker fans gapping, but local rooters hold that it presages big things Thursday.

Their string of 31 games in which they scored at least once broken at

Four Teams Still Have Title Chance

Rice, Baylor, TCU or SMU Can Win Southwest Championship

DALLAS, Texas.—Four more games to go and any one of four teams still capable of winning the flag—and a fifth still clinging to a chance to tie for the championship. That was the condition of the Southwest Conference Monday.

As the situation stands, this could happen:
1. Rice could win by beating Baylor in their date at Houston Saturday and following up with a victory over S. M. U. on by tying Baylor and beating S. M. U., if the Methodists tie or whip Texas Christian.

2. Baylor's chances; they must beat Rice, and then hope that T. C. U. is either defeated or tied by S. M. U. and S. M. U. ties or loses to Rice if the Methodists beat the Christians in the first place. Which makes Baylor's plight rather complicated.

3. Texas Christian can tuck away the title if it whips S. M. U. and Rice beats Baylor.

4. Southern Methodist can do it if it turns back T. C. U. and Rice while it turns back or ties Baylor.

Three big games dot the week-end cards. First, there is the traditional game between Texas A. and M. and Texas at College Station Thursday, which means nothing in the race, and then the S. M. U.-T. C. U. battle at Fort Worth and the Rice-Baylor game at Houston Saturday.

O'Brien of T. C. U. working behind a great line led by Ki Aldrich, teamed with Taylor, Earl Clark, another spin, and Lamar Blackmon to whip Rice, Ernie Linn, Ollie Cordill and all, 7-2.

Alarming was the way Southern Methodist dusted off University of California at Los Angeles, 26-13. The Mustangs, coming back to life after a rickety start, further proved they are still in the flag chase.

At Beaumont Bill Patterson was hurting in best form to lead Baylor to an easy 27-13 triumph over Loyola of Los Angeles.

Most amazing upset of the day was the failure of Arkansas' high scoring machine to manufacture a point in the scoreless tie with George Washington of Washington, D. C. in a Little Rock game. Arkansas plays Tulsa Thanksgiving.

The standings:

Rice Institute	4	2	1	1	.500

"Haven't got one that size," Rustus said the joking clerk, "but will a seven by nine pane do?"

"I'll try 'er," replied Rustus. "Maybe if we slip 'er in sideways nobody'll notice it."

"Big 15" Teams to Play Final Tilts

Thanksgiving to Ring Down Curtain for Conference

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—The Arkansas High School Athletic Conference rings the curtain down on its first season Thanksgiving Day in a series of "traditional" games only one of which can have any serious bearing on the league standings.

Undefeated Blytheville, holding second place behind the Pine Bluff Zebras, plays fifth place Forrest City. A loss for the powerful Zebras might drop them into third place, but the thoroughbreds, although strong, are not rated the equal of Coach Joe Diddy's lads.

Probably the outstanding game on the schedule is the seventh annual clash here between Little Rock and North Little Rock. The Tigers, tumbled only by Pine Bluff, are favorites to win but Coach Bob Cowan's Wildcats have shown great improvement and with the natural rivalry involved, the "classic" may well be anybody's ball game.

Fine Bluff offers the state's best inter-sectional program, entertaining Oklahoma City at Pine Bluff.

Another "traditional" battle sure to draw a full crowd is the annual Thanksgiving Day clash between El Dorado and Camden at the latter city. Camden has had a much better year than the Wildcats but again, this is a game where previous records mean little.

Hope entertains St. Joseph High School of Dallas, Texas, at Hope. Russellville goes to Clarksville for its annual classic and Fordyce plays Benton.

Cuba conference teams go outside the circuit, Jonesboro playing Paragould and Fort Smith meeting Subiaco.

The Standings
Team	Won	Lost	Tied	Pct.
Pine Bluff	4	0	0	1.000
Blytheville	4	0	0	1.000
North Little Rock	5	1	0	.833
Little Rock	4	2	0	.667
Forrest City	3	2	0	.600
Camden	3	2	0	.600
Hope	3	2	0	.600
Russellville	2	2	0	.500
Jonesboro	2	3	0	.400
El Dorado	2	3	0	.400
North Springs	3	6	0	.333
Clarksville	1	4	0	.200
Fort Smith	1	4	0	.200
Fordyce	0	5	0	.000
Benton	0	5	0	.000

3 College Tilts in State This Week

May Be Last Grid Season Under Rules of Present Association

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Three games close this week which may prove to be the last football season played under the aegis of the Arkansas Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

The AAA, attacked from within and without, is slated to undergo complete renovation if not actual dissolution at its annual meeting here December 4. Contributing to its collapse this year has been the inability of smaller schools to hold their own against the association's top-notchers, and serious financial setbacks for all members.

Of the three games, the outstanding one on schedule is the Thanksgiving Day clash at Conway between Arkansas Tech of Russellville and Hendrix Tech, beaten only by State Teachers, is fighting for runner-up post in the state race. Hendrix, unbeaten within the state and at outs with Teachers, wants a victory to hoist its rival championship claim.

The teams appear about on a par with Tech probably the strongest in the straight football and Hendrix outstanding in trucky play.

Another Turkey Day clash brings Arkansas State Teachers to Arkadelphia for a game with Henderson State Teachers. All the dope points to an easy victory for Coach Warren Woodson's Bears who have not lost a game in two years.

The final game of the year will be played at Arkadelphia Friday between Ouachita and St. Mary's of San Antonio. The Tigers, outlived within the state because of old troubles with the North Central Association, will be finishing one of their best seasons, considering the unusual type of opposition they were forced to meet.

Saratoga - Okay Association Holds Third Meeting of Season

At the third meeting of the Saratoga-Okay P. T. A. which was held Thursday, November 18, at the Okay school building an interesting program was given.

After the opening prayer which was led by M. H. Peebles, various reports were made. The treasurer reported that the association had $39.83; the membership committee reported 46 as the number of paid members; Mrs. Dillinger stated that several subscriptions to the McCall's magazine had already been sold.

The tenth grade won the $1 prize for having the most mothers present. Cecil E. Shuffield made an interesting speech in which he discussed peace and told how parents and teachers might educate their children for peace.

Miss Sara Carlington read A. Barclay's "The Money Spider."

The next meeting of the P. T. A. will be in the Saratoga High School building the third Thursday of December. Plans were discussed for a "negro wedding" to be given sometime before the next meeting.

TRAVEL INTO FAIRYLAND

Have a heart-to-heart talk with yourself! Double exposure, accurately planned, will let you.

DO you remember the wonder tales you read when a child, the forbidding castles filled with ogres, the huge jinn of the Arabian Nights, the trolls that lived under bridges and the fairies that haunted mysterious woodlands?

You can use your camera to re-create those childhood memories. You can make giants walk through your pictures. You can hold yourself, or a tiny version of yourself, in the hollow of your own hand. You can pose in intimate conversation with the Irish "wee people," the elves and fairies and the cowering leprechaun.

It's not hard. The method is to use our old friend, the double exposure—two shots on the same film. All that is necessary is accurate posing and careful control of the light. A black background is necessary or you can pose your subject before the door of a dark room.

Take the picture above. Although it was made with a camera having a ground glass for focusing, which simplifies making such pictures, you can get the same effect with your own small camera. First, pose the subject fairly close to the camera, with his empty hand extended. Snap the picture and mark the position of the hand on the glass view finder, very carefully, with a tiny dot of ink.

Now, without winding the film, move the camera back several feet, so the subject appears small in the view finder. Let him stand, facing his former position, so that his feet appear right on the ink dot in the finder. Arrange the light so the feet are not too brightly illuminated. This will help eliminate evidence of slight errors in the position of the subject. Snap the shutter a second time and the final picture is made. When the picture is developed, presto!—there are the little man and the big one, facing each other on the same film.

You will probably make mistakes in placement on your first tries, because the view finder is small, but this is part of the fun of trying trick photography—and some of your errors may give a funnier picture than the one you carefully planned. It is well to remember that only the figures in these shots can be lighted—if surrounding objects show up, they will spoil the picture.

If your camera has an "open" direct view finder, without glass, it is best not to try this sort of work. If, however, you have a camera with ground glass back, you can place figures with greater accuracy.

With this technique, you can make a fairy dance on the table in front of you—the fairy being your small daughter in her ballet dress. If you want to make the little figures transparent, shorten exposure a little. You can, if you like, do costume work, illustrating the fairy tales you enjoyed as a child. Try Jack and the Beanstalk, with an trepid small boy eluding the grasp of a fierce ogre. Or get an old hiking brogan and a copy of Mother Goose and picture the Old Lady Who Lived In A Shoe.

Farm Logic

They were arguing as to whether it was correct to say of a hen "she is sitting," or "she is setting."

"The question," said the farmer, "don't interest me at all. What I want to know when I hear a hen cackle is whether she is laying or laying."

Beware The Cough That Hangs On

From a common cold

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your common cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many cough remedies, such as Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, and fluid extract of Licorice Root, but it also has fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect, and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote, perfectly blended with all of these so that it will reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by both adults and children with remarkable results.

Thousands of people, who really know their drugs, use Creomulsion in their own families, realizing that this excellent preparation aids nature to soothe the inflamed mucous membranes, to heal the irritated tissues, and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion "tops" for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible, and active in going to the very seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is generally found satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritation, especially those stubborn ones that start as just a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained from the very first bottle of Creomulsion. Don't worry through another sleepless night—use Creomulsion.

Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product, and the relief that you want. (Adv.)

Among other demands, to which the Japanese said settlement authorities acceded "insofar as it was possible for them to comply," were eviction of all Chinese government organs and officials of both the central and local government and suppression of all anti-Japanese activity, including motion pictures, radio broadcasts and publications.

The Chinese army left Shanghai to the Japanese after their southern flank was turned by a surprise Japanese landing at Hankchow Bay. During the last 12 days of battle—during which the Chinese winter defense line was broken at Soochow—Chinese casualties were 200,000, including 50,000 killed, according to a Japanese statement.

On Aid For China
BRUSSELS, Belgium.—(P)—Delegates to the Brussels conference seeking peace in the Orient virtually admitted Sunday night that none of the nations represented was in a position to take effective action to halt the Chinese-Japanese war. The conference was called to meet again Monday in what was expected to be its final session.

Despite an effort by Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese delegate, to salvage some kind of aid for China, delegates were doubtful anything could be done. Koo rushed to Paris for a conference with French Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos and then took the next train back to Brussels to talk with Norman H. Davis, chief of the American delegation, and British delegates. There was no indication he obtained any commitments.
